

Gender Pay Gap Report 2022

Blackpool and The Fylde College

Summary of key points

- This report is based on a snapshot as at 31 March 2022. The previous snapshot was at 31 March 2021.
- B&FC's gender pay gap mean of 7.3% is slightly higher than the UK average mean of 7.0%
- B&FC's gender pay gap mean for 2021 of 7.3% is lower than the 2021 figure of 9.2% and lower than the education sector mean of 11.1%. The primary reason for the change has been both the higher percentage of recruitment of females in the upper middle quartile.
- B&FC's gender pay gap median at 2.3% compares very favourably to the UK average median of 15.4% and the education sector average median of 16%
- B&FC's gender pay gap median for 2021 at 2.3% has decreased from 6.9% in 2021 and remains significantly lower than the education sector median of 16%

Report

Under our obligations the gender pay gap report is split across the following calculations*

1. Pay as a mean average
2. Pay as a median average
3. Male and female pay split by quartile - each employee's hourly pay ordered from lowest to highest, then divided into four equal groups
4. Bonus pay

All calculations within this report are based on data as at 31 March 2022, in line with Government issued guidelines.

Conclusions and Next Steps

The gender pay gap at B&FC continues to compare favourably against organisations in education and in the UK overall. B&FC remains committed to inclusion. We have reviewed the good practice guide published by the Government Equalities Office in partnership with the Behavioural Insights Team and B&FC current practice.

The following key actions have been completed to continue to enhance our approach.

- A regular review of pay and reward at B&FC including sector benchmarking activity
- Promotion of our suite of Family Friendly policies and procedures to all employees
- Continuation of an organisational approach to agile working

The median hourly rate is calculated by ranking all employees from the highest paid to the lowest paid, and taking the hourly wage of the person in the middle; so the median gender pay gap is the difference between women’s median hourly wage (the middle paid woman) and men’s median hourly wage (the middle paid man).

The mean hourly rate is the average hourly wage across the entire organisation so the mean gender pay gap is a measure of the difference between women’s mean hourly wage and men’s mean hourly wage.

At B&FC in the 2021 return, women occupied 54.2% of the highest paid jobs and in the 2022 return women occupied 51.7% of the highest paid jobs

At B&FC in the 2021 return, women occupied 70% of the lowest paid jobs and in the 2022 return women occupied 70% of the lowest paid jobs

Employees across the top and upper middle quartiles have a relatively equal distribution between male and female employees. Employees across the lower middle quartile has a slightly greater distribution of female employees.

Employees within the lower quartile have a significantly greater distribution towards female employees. This quartile include positions within catering, cleaning and administration that female employees primarily hold.
